

WHAT IS GAIL?

The GAIL (Growing Arts in Lincoln) project, funded through the National Endowment for the Arts, focuses on strengthening new American artists and arts organizations in Lincoln through a series of seminars.

Lincoln's visual and performing artists, representatives of arts organizations and cultural organizations, and immigrant and refugee artists are invited to participate in these free seminars. A primary goal of the project is to build learning communities (GAIL Networks) in which members can build their careers or organizations through a mutual exchange of information.

The GAIL project offers several services to artists and arts administrators including a lending library of books and multi-media materials, networking groups, follow-up informational sessions, and mentoring for small organizations. Translation services can be provided.

Please join us for these great opportunities.

ABOUT US

The Lincoln Arts Council advocates for the arts, encourages diverse community arts development, and promotes and supports arts organizations in Lincoln.

We seek to make the arts a vibrant focal point for our community and support local artists and arts organizations in providing high-quality, versatile arts and cultural events. We offer workshops on resource development, grant writing and related topics for artists and arts organizations.

In addition to workshops and seminars like GAIL, we also host a website that is a portal to arts events and arts organizations in Lincoln. In 2006 we will be adding an artist registry to the website which will provide marketing opportunities for Lincoln artists.

Lincoln Arts Council is also responsible for annual projects like the Mayor's Arts Awards and Lincoln Arts Festival. In addition, we support public arts projects like Tour de Lincoln and the current Stories of Home.
